

COMPARING MODEL ACCURACY BEFORE AND AFTER APPLYING HYPERPARAMETER TUNING

Hyperparameters are used to control the training process, consequently they have to be set before the training starts. The process of finding the optimal hyperparameters to maximize model performance is called hyperparameter tuning.. Hyperparameters are parameters that can be fine-tuned and adjusted. This increases the accuracy score of a machine learning model.