

SPECIFY THE BUSINESS PROBLEM

A business problem can be defined as any hurdle, situation, or variation that leads to a difference between the desired objectives and accomplished results. Some problems present themselves (machine failure), while others require in-depth analysis of the organization (declining or slow growth).